Pamplin Junior Class Will Present Play Tomorrow Night

The Junior Class of Pamplin High School will present a three-act comedy entitled, The Great Ben Allah, Friday night, May 6, at 8 o'clock.

In the spacious and well-staffed Aldrich home, all is anything but serene, especially for Ruth, the pretty daughter of twenty-three. Ruth Aldrich and Ben Allen are very much in love, but Mrs. Aldrich refuses to let Ruth see Ben, an exceptionally nice young man, because he isn't a spiritualist. The self-centered Mrs. Aldrich is simply loony about anything to do with spiritualism, her latest craze. In order to have consent for Ruth to marry Ben, a fantastic plan is worked out by attractive Aunt Bobbie. Ben must pose as the Great Ben Allah, a Hindu spiritualist, with Ed as Ben's man Friday. Mrs. Aldrich is mad to meet a Hindu spiritualist. Aunt Bobbie's scheme is a terrific gamble, but Ruth and Ben are desperate.

Ben Allah's demonstration on supernatural magic thrills the gullible Mrs. Aldrich. Ben unwittingly hypnotizes Hawkins and later Dorothy into thinking they are dogs. The two jump around woof-woofing at everybody. None of the frantic schemers know how to cast off the canine spell. It looks like the end of the game when Mrs. Aldrich insists on Ben conductin a seance, whereby she hopes to prove to the doubting Mrs. Van Schuler that Ben is not a fake. It's too crazy for words, with a goldfish bowl for a crystal ball, they try to communicate with spirit of Cousin Hugo. In spite of all, the seance is a howling success, and Mrs. Aldrich faints at the most propitious moment. While she is still unconscious another wild plan, concocted by Professor Rawlings, gets underway to bring Mrs. Aldrich's hobby-mania to an end once and for all, but does it?

The cast:

Ben Allen	Robert Earl Pankey
Ed Weston	Fred Glover
Ruth Aldrich	Peggy Garrett
Jessica Aldrech	Shirley Arrington
Roberta Houston	Evelyn Ferguson
Helen Johnson	Edith Burrell
Mrs. Schyler Van Baldwin	Schuler Ann
Hawkins	Gene Davis
Dorothy	Ruth Tolbert
Professor Randolph	Rawlings

USE REFLECTIVE LIGHTING ON FARM EQUIPMENT

If there's a chance you'll be driving or towing equipment on the highway after dark, be sure it is adequately lighted at the rear.

The Virginia Rural Safety Council urges farmers to equip unlighted machines with reflective materials to supplement regular lighting provided by equipment manufacturers.

Many serious, and sometimes fatal accidents occur when fast-moving trucks or automobiles crash into the rear of slow-moving tractors or equipment. Reflective materials on the rear of this equipment can prevent these unnecessary tragedies.

Homemakers Items

If your fiber porch rugs, beach or yatch chairs are faded and shabby looking, you'll be interested in some advice from Miss Ruth Jamison, house furnishings specialist at VPI.

On rugs, try a canvas paint to renew them and make them fit in with the porch color scheme. First apply an undercoating to fill the pores and to condition the rug for the overcoating. Let this dry for 24 hours.

The overcoating may be applied with a brush or a spray. Let it dry 24 hours in the sun before using the rug, or the overcoating will crack off. There is a good range of colors in overcoating, so it will be easy to coordinate the color scheme of the porch or furniture.

Fiber, sisal, and grass rugs should be sized before applying the canvas paint. Make the size by mixing 1 cup of starch with 1 cup of cold water. Pour this mixture int 2 quarts of boiling water. Stir until it is smooth. Apply and allow it to dry thoroughly before using the overcoat.

Two or more coats of the overcoat are advisable for rugs because of the heavy wear they get.

When painting very dry and badly worn surfaces, such as canvas on a chair, you can save paint by first wiping the surface with clear water and applying the canvas paint while it is wet.

Father Darkleaf

By c. h. r.

We inquired of one of the regis- ed in the county how politics is going along out his way. He said that he had never known many folks to be registering, to vote in this year's primary. That's good. Our folks make excellent decisions.

We were chatting with J. J. Wingfield in the post office Saturday, when Leonard came in, and right off began talking about baseball in Appomattox. He "the good old days," when he was a catcher with the Piney Mountain team, back around '25. Mr. Wilkerson was pitcher, and could throw a powerful "drop." Leonard recalled that Hollywood defeated Piney Mountain 27 to 3, but Piney Mountain boys got together and practiced steadily. Two weeks later the same teams met at Piney Mill, and this time the Piney team won 7 to 2. He said, "We took our baseball seriously and played it at it. There were good crowds over Appomattox Courthouse days. He especially mentioned Sid Moore, now of West Virginia.

Brother L. E. Dickerson was in to tell us about the large dogwood tree in his property near Rocks. He says the dogwood measures 3½ feet in circumference. That is mansize for a dogwood. Let us hear from you and find the largest dogwood in Appomattox County!

Isaac Patterson was in from Baltimore to visit his old home town of Appomattox. He says he can hardly recognize the town, the way it has grown so rapidly.

Roller C. Chilton dropped in to see us and he recalled having heard Uncle Folk Miller at Appomattox Court House in 1904. Mr. Chilton says that Folk Miller was a wonderful entertainer. He recited the song, "Ramona" from memory here, and even recalled one of the jokes Miller told. (Incidentally, it won't be too long before Mr. Chilton's 50th wedding anniversary.)

A fair question: name the original thirteen states. Answer, quoting from the peace treaty ending the Revolutionary War, where it says—"His Britannic Majesty acknowledges the said United States, viz., New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, Maryland, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia, to be free, sovereign, and independent states."

Someone from Pamplin sent up to Appomattox the last week an old tax ticket for this county. It was dated 1872, and was signed out to R. R. Davis, with Robert Scott as County Treasurer.

Friend brought in a clipping from an Ohio newspaper on a subject always good for discussion: "Must a Minister Be Eloquent in the Pulpit? The article starts off: "Practically all ministers hear this laymen's lament: 'I like so many preachers can't preach.' Then it gets down to discussing the reading of sermons, as against spontaneous discourse. Some are to get into this discussion. Personally, I prefer a well-written sermon, and I believe that there is an art in knowing how to get over a message delivered word-for-word manuscript. The question that will never be decided to the satisfaction of all. The thing is to have something to say and to say it. The most ministers have that.

For no reason whatever, I now recall an old ditty, the fabulous "Ten Nights in a Barroom." It leads off: "Father, dear father, come home with me now, The clock in the steeple strikes one; You said you were coming right home from the shop, As soon as your day's work was done."

That scene was the highlight of the touching drama, "Ten Nights in a Barroom." This show ran for several generations in America and is listed among the all time classics. It played the big towns, the small towns and the crossroads. In lodge halls, school houses, churches, and tents. The show was clean-jerking, all right. And it was first introduced back in the 1850's.

Dance Friday For Christian Memorial Fund

The first of a series of dances to raise money for the Christian Memorial Fund, will be held on Friday night, May 13, at the Appomattox Garment Co. Cafeteria, from 9 to 12. The Dixie Dandies, local boys' orchestra, will furnish the music. Members of the Bunny Hop Club have been selling tickets this week and they are now on sale at Spencer Drug Store. This dance is being staged for adults only, with plans being made for a Teen-Age group and Young Tots in the near future. The Appomattox Garment Company will have the cafeteria open for dancing and the use of facilities for serving coffee, drinks and sandwiches. The rear entrance, facing Patricia Ann Lane, will be open for the public.

Still Need Quarters For Pipeliners

With May 16 as the "kick-off" date for full-scale operations on the Natural Gas Pipeline project here, and with new workers arriving at the headquarters of the contractor here daily, the demand for housing is mounting. It is expected that approximately 400 workers will be on the pipeline job here for perhaps five months. Many have trailers, and many have their families with them. The biggest item in the housing situation is the demand for small apartments.

Mayor C. F. James is acting as a committee of one to list available living quarters. Those in the county as well as in the town who have living quarters to offer, should list what they have with Mayor James at once. This week-end could be the critical moment in whether or not Appomattox is going to be able to accomodate this very fine group of workers and their families.

New Gulf Station To Open Friday

Guill's Gulf Station will open on Friday of this week. It will be operated by Hal Flood Guill. It is located on U. S. 460, one mile west of Appomattox .

Town Hits Jackpot With Water Source

Pamplin Won 2 Ball Games From Locals

Pamplin took games from Appomattox last week-end as the Patrick Henry League opened its schedule. Both games were featured by free hitting and weak pitching. At Appomattox Saturday night, there were 44 hits in a lengthy and sloppy ball game, Pamplin winning 22 to 11. Pamplin got 27 hits and Appomattox 17.

Pamplin rallied several times Sunday afternoon on their home grounds to score a loosely-played 10 to 9 victory. Appomattox had five home runs in the setto; two by Ray Wingfield, and one each by Shearer Robertson, Ed Cawthorne and J. T. Guill.

Bates Turner, manager of the Pamplin team, announced today that he has signed Dave Cyrus to pitch for his team. Dave is a former professional player, a native of Spout Spring. He recently secured his release from Shreveport in the Texas League. He formerly played with Albany, Georgia, and was in the St. Louis Cardinal farm system. He developed arm trouble last year, and has returned to his home at Spout Spring. In addition to his pitching, Cyrus is a heavy hitter.

Appomattox will take on Altavista in a pair of games this week-end, at Altavista Friday night and here Saturday night. Altavista won from Republican Grove last Saturday.

Brookneal and Henry's Mill split their two opening games. Brookneal won Friday, 6 to 1, and Henry's Mill won Sunday's game, 12 to 1.

Pamplin is at the top of the league after the first two games.

Dogwoods Are Planted Along Historic Road

After many years of dreaming and planning, the Appomattox Garden Club, with help from the State Highway Department has begun a project of landscaping the highway from the Town of Appomattox to Old Appomattox Court House. This project is a living memorial to Garden Club members and will be continued from year to year until completed.

Although the Highway Department is in the process of drawing up complete plans for this project, the work has begun with the planting of cedar trees, shade trees, and twenty-four dogwood trees, purchased by the Garden Club, along approximately a mile on both sides of the highway south of the McLean House entrance. Gifts from the public to further this project are welcomed by the local Garden Club.

Pamplin H. S. Had Excellent Baseball Record

The Pamplin High School baseball team has played seven games this season and won six of them. The only set back came early in the season when Lovingston won a closely contested game, 4 to 2. The Pamplin nine registered wins over Concord (8-3), Worsham (8-7), Marshall District (8-7), Rustburg (10-9), Worsham (8-7), Rustburg (13-7).

Douglas Jamerson has been a consistent performer at the plate with a batting average of .600. This includes four home runs, one in each of the last four games. Kinckle Martin has the second highest batting average with .464.

Jamerson has won five victories with his pitching and William Ranson one.

MRS. W. H. DRINKARD

Mrs. Lizzie Stone Drinkard, 94, widow of William Henry Drinkard, died at her home on R. F. D. 2, Concord at 8:40 P. M. Monday.

Born on June 25, 1860, in Appomattox County, daughter of the late Micajah and Mary Fannie Herdnon Stone, she was the oldest member of Hebron Baptist Church.

She is survived by six children Mrs. Frank C. Drinkard, Mrs. Erwin Chick, and Clayton T. Drinkard, all of Concord; Mrs. Frank Jennings and Glenn P. Drinkard, both of Lynchburg, and Paul S. Drinkard, of Appomattox; also by nine grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from the Hebron Baptist Church on Wednesday at 11 A. M. Burial was made in the church cemetery.

add Drinkard funeral . . . . . .

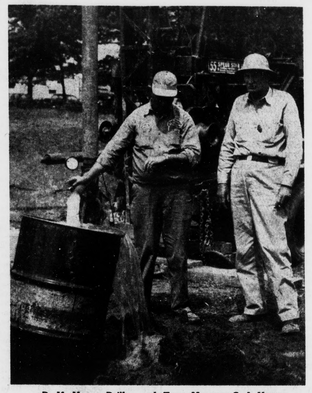
Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Floy Cox, assisted by Dr. Carl A. Collins, Jr., the Rev. W. A. Irving and the Rev. L. P. Brown. Active pallbearers were: Frank E. Jennings Lloyd Jennings, Clayton Drinkard Jr., Tye Drinkard, Mack Stone, Maurice Stone, Alton Drinkard and Earl Drinkard.

We extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

Urge Voters To Register

According to a ruling by Attorney General J. Lindsay Almond, voters in towns and cities having town elections June 14, must be registered by midnight, May 14, in order to be eligible to vote in the Democratic primary of July 12. This does not apply to voters in precincts having no town or city elections. The ruling will cause a rush of voters here Friday and Saturday. Court House Registrar, J. H. Lucado, will be at the Clerk's Office all day Friday and at his home from 6:30 to midnight Saturday to register voters.

It is understood that there are a very large number of citizens in the county who have paid capitation taxes but have not as yet registered. They should do so at once.



. . . . D. M. Meore, Driller, and Town Manager C. J. Hunter, Watching Flow of Water from Appomattox's Fourth Well

A flow of 80 gallons of water per minute was the jackpot strike the Town of Appomattox got this week as drillers completed work on the town's fourth well. The new well is located on land recently acquired by the town from E. L. Smith between Route 460 and the N. & W. Railway line.

C. J. Hunter, town manager, was elated at the excellent flow of water from the new well, and declared that it meant the end of a water shortage problem here, Last summer the town was on limited water ration during the extended drought.

Mr. Hunter declared that it would take two or more weeks to get the pump installed at the new well, to build a pump house, to dig ditches and hook the well into the water mains running to the town tanks.

The new well is 105 feet deep. Drilling began Monday. Rock was hit at 35 feet, and a flow of 30 gallons per minute was hit at 55 feet. From then on, the drillers went through alternate layers of soft and hard rock, and as each layer of soft rock was reached, the flow of water became better.

Test pumps were put into action at 10 A. M. Tuesday, at the 105 foot depth. At 10 A. M. Wednesday, a 24 hour stretch of pumping, the flow continued at 80 gallons per minute, and the water level was within five feet of the top.

This flow is approximately the same as that of the town's first well, located in the heart of town. Well No. 2 is located at the town's larger water tank on Route 460, and despite its depth of 287 feet gives only about 10 gallons a minute. Well No. 3 was donated to the town by Herncall's Cleaners, and at 102 feet gives 25 gallons per minute.

The newest well was drilled by the Moore Well Drilling Co., of Rustburg.

Boy Scouts At Scoutarama

Appomattox Troop 46, Boy Scouts of America, took part in the Scoutarama held in Lynchburg last Saturday. Fifteen members of the troop led by John Ivey Holland, assistant Scoutmaster, assisted by Mr. C. R Thomas, chairman of the Boy Scout Committee, participated in the parade of two thousand Scouts and in other parts of the event.

The Appomattox Scouts were honored when Scout Tom Holland was selected as one of the four color guards for the Piedmont Area.

Mr. Thomas has requested the Times-Virginian to express appreciation to those who contributed to the success of the recent Piedmont Area School fund drive.

Cameras A. Powers, of Lynchburg, is Scoutmaster of Troop 46.

County Com. For Jamestown Festival Named

Approved by the county board of supervisors, a committee was set up here this week to cooperate with the Jamestown Festival, the 350th anniversary of the Settlement of Jamestown, to be observed in 1957. At a meeting held at the court house on Tuesday night, Calvin Robinson was named chairman of the Appomattox Committee. Mayor C. F. James was named vice-chairman; Mrs. C. F. P. Crawley secretary, and the following were named as members: F. L. Murphy, C. T. Moses, Jr; Richard D. Robinson, Mrs. C. T. Moses, Jr; Mrs. E. C. Smith and Fred H. Lawson.

These were selected to represent local civic groups and governing bodies.

Similar committees are being set up in every county and city in Virginia, and a central committee is already working on a year-round program of events in the state for 1957.

Program at Stonewall Community Center

The Stonewall Community Center Membership Drive and Program will be given at the Center Saturday night at 8:00 o'clock. Refreshments will be sold.

Board Rescinds Action On Carnivals

In a surprise move yesterday, by a two to one vote, the county board of supervisors rescinded previous action and opened the door for carnivals to return to Appomattox. The earlier restrictions had kept carnivals out of the county for over two years. It is understood that F. L. Murphy opposed the change, and F. A. O'Brien and J. P. Alvis favored it.

4-H GIRLS TO MEET

4-H Club girls enrolled in Bread project will meet at 9:00 A. M. Saturday, May 21, in the office of Mrs. B. G. Anderson, home agent. Girls will bring samples of bread made, for judging.

Charter Given Local Jaycees

A charter was presented to the recently-formed Appomattox County Junior Chamber of Commerce, at a banquet here Saturday night at the high school cafeteria. About 80 were present for the occasion, at which Dr. Fred Helsabeck, the vice-mayor of Lynchburg and Assistant to the President of Lynchburg College, was the guest speaker. Dr. Helsabeck explained the work of the "Jaycees" and gave details of some of the projects of the Lynchburg Jaycees. Earl Campbell, of Lynchburg's Jaycees, was master of ceremonies. Sumpter Priddy, of Waverly, president of the Virginia Junior Chamber of Commerce, presented the charter and installed the officers.

Charter members of the Appomattox Jaycees are: Richard Lee Bass, Grover Beasley, Jr.; H. H. Caldwell Jr.; Thomas J. Campbell, David W. Carter, J. Edwin Cawthorne, Henry T. Chernault, William E. Chernault, Kenneth E. Coleman, Samuel D. Davidson, William T. Evans, David A. Ferguson, R. Murrell Ferguson, Lloyd M. Godsey, Robert Bruce Haley, Jr.; Wallace G. Haley, John T.
